Good Strikes Within the Past Few Days.

Work Very Active in Nearby Oil Fields, and Something Doing in Local Territory.

Three oil wells have been completed in the field near Louisa since our last report and all are producers. Neither is considered a large well, but shooting and proper handling will make them pay. Two of the wells are at Busseyville, on the Venora leases, and the other on F. H. Yates' land on Two Mile. The latter was drilled by the Wayne Oil company. It will be shot within a few days and bids fair to make a profitable well.

The Wayne Oil company has contracted with the Little Blaine Oil company to drill a well and the work will start at once. This is a new company with which W. M. Chapman, L. W. Spencer and Dr. L. S. Hayes are prominently identified.

The incorporation of the local pipe line company has been completed. A proposition has been made to take over all the unsold stock and this is now under consideration.

$3000.00 Per Day.

One of the biggest oil strikes made recently is near Charleston, W. Va. In the company are Judge John H. Holt, Harry Duncan, Caldwell and McConnell, of Huntington, J. C. C. Mayo of Paintsville, and others. Judge Holt is the largest individual holder, owning one-fourth of the property. A well drilled in a few days ago is making 800 barrels per day. The oil is a superior quality, specific gravity 55, worth something near $3 per barrel. On the same property the company has three large gas wells. One is making twenty-five million feet per day, which is the largest production known for any one well now in existence.

Only ten million feet per day of the gas is being marketed now, and the daily income of the company from this gas and the one oil well is about $3000.00.

The company owns a large acreage and the oil well is about the center of the tract.

Another Well on Beaver.

The last well drilled on Beaver by the Yolanda Oil company is producing about 20 barrels of high grade oil per day. This company now has a production of more than 50 barrels of oil per day. Also several good gas wells. The property belongs to the Dimmicks, Dr. M. G. Watson and others.

Gas Well Near Ashland.

The gas wells drilled in at Ashland a few months ago soon became exhausted. But another good strike is reported near there, at the Bellefonte Brick Yards. The well was put down by the Means-Russell Iron company to a depth of 1725 feet. This is considerably deeper than the former wells and we hope the supply will be greater.

A Fine Sermon.

The Rev. W. J. Clarke, of Sparta, Ky., one of the most eminent men in the Christian Church in Kentucky and who was attending the Bible-school Convention of the Disciples of Christ held here last week, on the invitation of the pastor of the M. E. Church South preached in that church last Sunday morning. His discourse was based upon that momentous, twice-repeated question asked Peter by the Divine Master—"Lovest thou me?" Naturally, the speaker's subject was Christian Service. For the space of forty minutes Mr. Clarke held his large and appreciative audience as with a spell as he spoke of what kind of service his disciples should render to Jesus the Carpenter, the Carpenter who builded the universe, who wrought as one in the shop of his earthly parent, and the Carpenter who has built the Many Mansions, prepared for those who loved him and who had fed his sheep and his lambs.

No scant and imperfect report can do anything like justice to Mr. Clarke's splendid sermon, prepared with intelligent care along original lines, teeming with thought and lines, teeming with thought and ed with musical, powerful voice, and enunciation so clear and clean as to be delightful. It was a great sermon.

City Council Proceedings.

The city council met in regular session Tuesday night, all members present. Beyond routine business not much was done. The treasury being somewhat anemic in condition no claims were allowed.

It was ordered that the west side of Lady Washington street, from Madison to Powhattan, be paved. This has a familiar sound, like something that has been ordered before. The same order was made concerning Main Cross street, beginning at E. E. Shannon's property and coming up on both sides to the city building.

The council adjourned to meet Monday, June 17th.

$2500.00 Damages.

By the terms of a compromise effected between the plaintiff and the defendant Lindsey Sammons, of Warfield, has received from the Norfolk & Western railroad the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars. A suit had been brought by Sammons to recover $25,000 as damage for injury alleged to have been received by a collision which occurred at tunnel six, a few miles east of Fort Gay, December 24, 1910. The case was settled during the term of the Federal Court held in Catlettsburg last week.

Jenny's Creek Railroad.

Interest has again been aroused in a proposed line of railroad up Jenny's Creek, Johnson county. Right-of-way men and a surveying corps have recently been at work along the proposed route.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Primaries Held by Both Parties Over in W. Va.

The Republican State Primary in West Virginia last Tuesday resulted as follows:
For Governor, Dr. Hatfield, of McDowell county, by 30,000.
Secretary of State, Reed of Harrison.

Congressman at large, Howard Southerland, of Randolph.
Treasurer, probably C. P. Rathbone.

Auditor, John Darst.
Attorney General, A. A. Lilly.

Commissioner of Agriculture, H. E. Williams, of Greenbrier.

Congressmen, G. A. Laughlin, Wm. G. Conley, S. B. Avis, Judge H. H. Moss, Jas. A. Hughes.

State Senator, 5th District, Dennis Steed, of Lincoln county.

Hughes won over Goodykoontz by about 7000 majority.

Wayne Democratic Convention.

The Wayne county Democratic convention was held on Saturday last and resulted in the nomination of the following: For Sheriff, John S. Billups; House of Delegates, Frank Terrell and C. W. Thompson; Prosecuting Attorney, D. B. Hardwick; Assessor, Pearl Frazier; Justice of the Peace, J. P. Billups and J. W. Huff.

May Lose a Leg.

Friends of L. L. Herr, formerly of this city but now of Ashland, are much concerned about his physical condition. He has some sort of a tumor on one of his legs. The growth is malignant, and amputation may be found necessary. An examination under the X-rays is to be made, followed by a consultation, when the course to be taken will be determined.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Holds an Important Convention at Louisa.

Sixteenth District Churches, Board of Missions and Bible School Represented by Delegates.

The Sixteenth District convention of Christian churches, Bible School and the Christian Woman's Board of Missions began at the Christian church in Louisa on Friday evening, May 31, and continued until Sunday evening, June 2. The house was filled with people at the first session, when an able address was delivered by Sec. H. W. Elliott, of Sulphur, Ky. Following Mr. Elliott the well known R. B. Neal, of Grayson, made a delightful talk, at the close of which he availed himself of the opportunity to introduce his "F. E. B's." Miss Mary Gardner, of Salyersville, a young lady of much talent and thorough training, was persuaded to recite and was called back by the continuous applause of the entire audience.

The Saturday morning program as carried out was up to the high standard of that of Friday evening. Mr. W. J. Clarke, specialist in the line of the Adult Bible Class, is a man of unusual charm and ability. His addresses were well received by all who heard him. Mr. Frazee, State Superintendent of Bible Schools, by his pleasing personality his thorough training and his wide experience, is peculiarly adapted to his work. He made many friends while in Louisa. Hon. H. Clay Brown, of Olive Hill, President of the Bible School association of the district, made a most interesting address on Saturday morning.

At the afternoon meeting talks were given by Messrs. McMurray and Reeves, ministers of the churches at Olive Hill and Ashland, respectively. Mr. McMurray spoke of "How the Bible School Helps the church," after which Mr. Reeves described "A Model Bible School Building."

After the Bible School on Sunday morning, much of the time of which was used for the work of the convention, the day was turned over to the C. W. B. M., of which Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Superintendent of Schools of Rowan county, is district president. Mrs. Stewart is in her element as presiding officer at such a meeting. The absence of Mrs. Yancey and others who were to appear on the program of the morning was regretted, but the presence of Mr. Edgar C. Riley, Supt. of Schools of Boone county, Ky., who spoke from the subject: "Christianity a system of Education," made this one of the very best sessions of the entire convention.

Through the courtesy of officers and trustees the Saturday night session of Bible-School Convention of the Disciples of Christ was held in the new and handsome Baptist Church. The building, auditorium, gallery and Sunday school room, was crowded, and the large audience seemed greatly pleased with the interesting and instructive programme. The introductory services consisted of solo and chorus singing, prayer and the reading of scripture appropriate to the address delivered by Dr. R. H. Crossfield, President of Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky. Dr. Crossfield's theme was "The Crisis Among the Disciples," and his address was a masterpiece of argument, logic and oratory. The doctor has a fine platform presence, a splendid, far-reaching voice, and a most agreeable manner. Add to these desirable qualities a liberal education derived from books and schools and supplemented by a fund of information derived from extensive travel at home and abroad, with eyes and ears wide open, and you have the central figure in the exercises of Saturday night.

Dr. Crossfield believes that a crisis has arrived among the disciples of Christ, of whatever name or creed, and before he was through, his discourse every thoughtful listener in the large and attentive assembly in his presence agreed with him. He presented three hypotheses for their consideration. First, briefly: For the relief of the sick and the injured it is absolutely necessary that there must be an adequate supply of physicians and surgeons. If this supply was not only not maintained but was constantly diminished, what, the doctor asked, would be the effect upon humanity?

Secondly: What would be the inevitable result of a sufficient number of school teachers was not provided and kept up? But this contingency need not be feared or discussed. The existing ratio of teachers to schools, in some sections at least, is about five to one.

The third supposition related to the supply of preachers, and the amazing facts and figures hurled in volleys at his hearers during the discussion of this point certainly set them to thinking. Dr. Crossfield showed by his facts and figures that the number of preachers in everyone of the evangelical churches in the United States is decreasing, and at such a rate that the result is inevitable unless the pendulum swings the other way. This is, indeed, The Crisis Among the Disciples. The speaker plead for more preachers, for better preachers and for better paid preachers. There will be more preachers when we fall into the custom of the good old Scotch who plan to set apart at least one boy in every family for the ministry. And when he is chosen they educate him.

Dr. Crossfield was optimistic, believing that the Crisis would in time be successfully met and the world be won for Christ.

On Sunday afternoon the Christian Church was filled to repletion with delegates and citizens. The exercises on this occasion were of a most interesting character. The program was in charge of the C. W. B. M. under the direction of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, who with a very pleasing and agreeable personality and knowledge of parliamentary procedure, makes a model presiding officer. At this meeting Elder Geo. M. Farley, pastor of the Morehead Christian Church, spoke well on "Woman and the Church." He was followed by Mr. J. A. Robinson, principal of the Morehead Normal School, who told of his visit to

BATTLE AT JENKINS.

Officers Have Fatal Clash With Illicit Liquor Dealers.

Whitesburg, Ky., June 3.—Two were killed and three severely wounded when a posse of officers made a raid upon a "blind tiger" near the town of Jenkins. Deputy Sheriff John Pollock, Squire Potter, Patrolmen Ashe and Anderson and United States Marshals J. W. and J. H. Adington made the raid.

A lookout must have given the proprietors information of the coming of the officers, the authorities here declare, as the men in the "blind tiger," heavily armed, awaited the arrival of the attacking party. When the officers demanded that they surrender a volley was the answer. Officer Pollock fell wounded by three bullets.

For several minutes both sides were under fire. Two Italians were killed instantly, while two others were wounded severely. There were eight in the house and, after battling for several minutes with the officers, the survivors surrendered and were brought overland under a heavy guard to Whitesburg.

Hospital Notes.

James Curry, married, a miner at Torchlight, is in the hospital suffering from a compound fracture of both bones of his left leg. He was handling a machine in the mine, when the "jack" slipped and caused the serious accident. Dr. Marcum, the mine physician, had him placed on a train and brought him to Louisa. The accident occurred on Tuesday.

A. J. Barnett, of Flat Gap, is also in the hospital. He is being treated for a broken right thigh, caused by a log rolling over him while he was at work on Muddy branch.

STATE CONVENTION

Report of the Big Doings at Louisville

Of Special Interest Locally, Because of Victory of Vansant and Mayo, Our Next Door Neighbors.

A clean sweep of the boards was made by the administration forces in the Democratic State Convention held at Louisville, on Wednesday of last week. By electing Governor James B. McCreary as temporary Chairman over United States Senator Elect Ollie M. James the administration scored its first victory, and insured control of the state organization by the administration for at least four years longer.

The fight over the initial and vital convention prize was fully as interesting and close as had been anticipated. It was probably the most hotly contested political struggle witnessed in Kentucky in a decade.

Ollie James surprised the convention by making the speech placing himself in nomination for temporary chairman of the convention. It caused much discussion and the general belief is that he made a big mistake.

It is said he took the step at the urgent request of misguided friends, who overestimated his strength, but many persons are winking slyly and asserting "he has dug his own political grave."

Another body blow was delivered Senator James, who championed the candidacy of Colonel Urey Woodson for re-election as National Committeeman. He put up a spirited fight for the Owensboroan, who was defeated by J. C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, the vote being Mayo 698 and Woodson 493.

An amusing incident occurred during the roll call of counties when half a dozen delegates singled out Delegate Doug Hayes, of Perry County, and accused him of voting for eight counties. There were cries of "Put him out!" and an uproar followed. Hayes voted Floyd, Russell, Leslie, Knox, Owsley and Knott Counties, he said, but "held proxies for 'em all." Each time he voted for J. C. C. Mayo. As it happened he had voted "right," as a recall of the roll showed.

The Committee report declared for Champ Clark instructions to Baltimore, condemned the controversy raging between President Taft and former President Roosevelt, pledged the party to tariff reform, urged that the delegates from the state at large and district delegates be instructed to vote as a unit at Baltimore and endorsed the record of the state administration.

The committee also went on record for reforms in national banking and currency laws.

A minority report was presented by Judge J. W. Henson endorsing Urey Woodson for National Committeeman. The report was offered as an amendment to the majority document, and the fight on its adoption led to the proposal by J. N. Kehoe, of Mason County, that the name of J. C. C. Mayo be substituted for that of Woodson.

In the interest of party harmony eight delegates from the state at large will be sent to Baltimore. Henry Watterson's name is conspicuous by its absence. Those chosen were Governor McCreary, Senator-elect James, former Governor Beckham, J. C. C. Mayo, Judge Allie Young, of Morehead; Congressman Ben Johnson, of the Fourth District; Justus Gobel, of Covington, and Congressman Owsley Stanley, of the Second District.

Alternates—W. W. Utley, Lyon County; Herman Southall, Christian; R. W. Bradburn, Warren; J. A. Donaldson, Carroll; A. D. Martin, Franklin; M. W. Rewine, Elliott; Walter Harkins, Floyd, and Ben V. Smith, Pulaski. Robert Harding, Bayle, and H. V. McChesney, of Franklin County, were elected electors from the state at large.

Senator James and Congressman Stanley, abetted by the Louisville organization, pitted their political strategy against that of the administration, and General Haly, as his friends predicted, proved himself to be more adept at the game of "fighting close in" than Senator James. There is not the least doubt that when Senator James offered himself for the honor of being named temporary Chairman the delegates were dazed. They were not expecting it, and this is what the James followers were counting upon.

Much Time Wasted.

Much time was wasted by men and boys, not delegates to the convention, who lined up against the walls and at the rear of the hall, who interfered with the speakers, especially H. V. McChesney. The latter was forced to wait for 15 minutes before he was able to proceed with his remarks.

The disturbers were the same class of thugs and beer-soakers that are always packed into convention halls in Louisville to try to howl down the opposition. No State Convention should ever be held in Louisville.

Chairman Prewitt then announced that the time had arrived for the selection of a temporary Chairman. There was a tense period following this announcement, followed by some nervous shuffling.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman climbed aboard a chair and facing the delegates, put in nomination Governor James B. McCreary.

There was a wild outburst of applause and the cheering was prolonged. When it began to subside Senator James made his way to the rostrum, accompanied by Congressman Stanley, and once more pandemonium broke loose.

The program said to have been agreed upon was that Congressman Stanley should nominate Senator James. The Secretary finished the roll call of districts and again called out "First District."

It was believed by many that Senator James proposed to nominate a compromise candidate and thus indirectly control the proceedings of the convention.

It was here that the great "close-in" fight began and General Haly re-established himself as one of the shrewdest political strategists. Kentucky ever has known no drops to a tea H. V. McChesney of the system. They dollars for any case it for circulars and tes

Beautiful Program Well Rendered Sunday Evening.

One of the most impressive Children's Day services it has ever been our privilege to attend was given at the Southern Methodist church on last Sunday evening. The theme of the program was "The Children's Kings," and for symmetry and dignified beauty it would be hard to conceive a more pleasing one. The aim was to present a simple yet attractive and comprehensive Life of Christ. The children were so beautifully trained that they entered into the story in an unusually thoughtful way. The program opened with the "Birthday of the King," read from Luke II-8-20 in a clear voice by one of the young girls, followed by a sweet solo, "Under the Stars." The visit to the temple when a boy of twelve was given by boys who seemed to be glad that Jesus was once a boy and understands boys. "When He Up to Manhood Grew" was a solo sung by a little girl with a sweet voice, who pronounced every word so it can be understood.

The Cradle Roll Reception following the story of "Suffer the Little Children to come unto Me," was the climax of the evening.

The tiny tots gave a reception to a dear little, real live baby in a go-cart, Martha Mayo Stewart, who won the hearts of all who saw her sweet baby ways. As the organ was played softly a floral cradle was slowly lowered and the small reception committee filled the cart with daisies much to the delight of the baby, who gave each a winsome smile.

"Of such is the Kingdom of God." A feature we do not often see in a Children's Day program was the

James the administration scored its first victory, and insured control of the state organization by the administration for at least four years longer.

The fight over the initial and vital convention prize was fully as interesting and close as had been anticipated. It was probably the most hotly contested political struggle witnessed in Kentucky is a decade.

Ollie James surprised the convention by making the speech placing himself in nomination for temporary chairman of the convention. It caused much discussion and the general belief is that he made a big mistake.

It is said he took the step at the urgent request of misguided friends, who overestimated his strength, but many persons are winking slyly and asserting "he has dug his own political grave."

Another body blow was delivered Senator James, who championed the candidacy of Colonel Urey Woodson for re-election as National Committeeman. He put up a spirited fight for the Owensboroan, who was defeated by J. C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, the vote being Mayo 698 and Woodson 493.

An amusing incident occurred during the roll call of counties when half a dozen delegates singled out Delegate Doug Hayes, of Perry County, and accused him of voting for eight counties. There were cries of "Put him out!" and an uproar followed. Hayes voted Floyd, Russell, Leslie, Knox, Owsley and Knott Counties, he said, but "held proxies for 'em all." Each time he voted for J. C. C. Mayo. As it happened he had voted "right," as a recall of the roll showed.

The Committee report declared for Champ Clark instructions to Baltimore, condemned the controversy raging between President Taft and former President Roosevelt, pledged the party to tariff reform, urged that the delegates from the state at large and district delegates be instructed to vote as a unit at Baltimore and indorsed the record of the state administration.

The committee also went on record for reforms in national banking and currency laws.

A minority report was presented by Judge J. W. Henson indorsing Urey Woodson for National Committeeman. The report was offered as an amendment to the majority document, and the fight on its adoption led to the proposal by J. N. Kehoe, of Mason County, that the name of J. C. C. Mayo be substituted for that of Woodson.

In the interest of party harmony eight delegates from the state at large will be sent to Baltimore. Henry Watterson's name is conspicuous by its absence. Those chosen were Governor McCreary, Senator-elect James, former Governor Beckham, J. C. C. Mayo, Judge Allie Young, of Morehead; Congressman Ben Johnson, of the Fourth District; Justus Gobel, of Covington, and Congressman Owsley Stanley, of the Second District.

Alternates—W. W. Utley, Lyon County; Herman Southhall, Christian; R. W. Bradburn, Warren; J. A. Donaldson, Carroll; A. D. Martin, Franklin; M. W. Rewine, Elliott; Walter Harkins, Floyd, and Ben V. Smith, Pulaski. Robert Harding, Bayle, and H. V. McChesney, of Franklin County, were elected electors from the state at large.

Senator James and Congressman Stanley, abetted by the Louisville organization, pitted their political strategy against that of the administration, and General Haly, as his friends predicted, proved himself to be more adept at the game of "fighting close in" than Senator James. There is not the least doubt that when Senator James offered himself for the honor of being named temporary Chairman the delegates were dazed. They were not expecting it, and this is what the James followers were counting upon.

Much Time Wasted.

Much time was wasted by men and boys, not delegates to the convention, who lined up against the walls and at the rear of the hall, who interfered with the speakers, especially H. V. McChesney. The latter was forced to wait for 15 minutes before he was able to proceed with his remarks.

The disturbers were the same class of thugs and beer-soakers that are always packed into convention halls in Louisville to try to howl down the opposition. No State Convention should ever be held in Louisville.

Chairman Prewitt then announced that the time had arrived for the selection of a temporary Chairman. There was a tense period following this announcement, followed by some nervous shuffling.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman climbed aboard a chair and facing the delegates, put in nomination Governor James B. McCreary.

There was a wild outburst of applause and the cheering was prolonged. When it began to subside Senator James made his way to the rostrum, accompanied by Congressman Stanley, and once more pandemonium broke loose.

The program said to have been agreed upon was that Congressman Stanley should nominate Senator James. The Secretary finished the roll call of districts and again called out "First District."

It was believed by many that Senator James proposed to nominate a compromise candidate and thus indirectly control the proceedings of the convention.

It was here that the great "close-in" fight began and General Haly re-established himself as one of the shrewdest political strategists. Consistently ever has known. It is taken from 10 drops to a tea-spoonful of the system. They are for any case it or circulars and test-

Beautiful Program Well Rendered Sunday Evening.

One of the most impressive Children's Day services it has ever been our privilege to attend was given at the Southern Methodist church on last Sunday evening. The theme of the program was "The Children's King," and for symmetry and dignified beauty it would be hard to conceive a more pleasing one. The aim was to present a simple yet attractive and comprehensive Life of Christ. The children were so beautifully trained that they entered into the story in an unusually thoughtful way. The program opened with the "Birth of the King," read from Luke II-8-20 in a clear voice by one of the young girls, followed by a sweet solo, "Under the Stars." The visit to the temple when a boy of twelve was given by boys who seemed to be glad that Jesus was once a boy and understands boys. "When He Up to Manhood Grew" was a solo sung by a little girl with a sweet voice, who pronounces every word so it can be understood.

The Cradle Roll Reception following the story of "Suffer the Little Children to come unto Me," was the climax of the evening.

The tiny tots gave a reception to a dear little, real live baby in a go-cart, Martha Mayo Stewart, who won the hearts of all who saw her sweet baby ways. As the organ was played softly a floral cradle was slowly lowered and the small reception committee filled the cart with daisies much to the delight of the baby, who gave each a winsome smile.

"Of such is the Kingdom of God." A feature we do not often see in a Children's Day program was the

Twenty-eight children were killed in the streets of New York by vehicle traffic during the last month,

Mr. John Kimberlin, who resides in the Arbuckle pike, about eight miles from Lebanon, was tried in the County Court Monday on a warrant charging him with obstructing the highway, by placing the fence inclosing his farm on the turnpike right of way. Mr. Kimberlin proposed to Judge Smith that he go out and designate the proper line.

Dr. A. G. Browning, of this city, is the possessor of a fine solid gold case and dial watch that is at least 35 years old, and very likely much more ancient. It was made in England, and the workmanship must have been of the highest order. Since the watch has been in continual use for much over a century and a quarter, and is still a reliable timepiece, Dr. Browning says his great-grandfather, John Hart, had the watch on his person when he signed the Declaration of Independence.—Maysville Bulletin.

Winchester, Ky., May 31.—Col. Fulton B. French, a prominent citizen of this city, while traveling in the mountains above Jackson last week, was the intended victim of an assassin's plot, but providentially escaped unscathed. Shortly after the shooting of Ed Callahan, the famous mountain feudist, Mr. French left for Jackson to be at the bedside of his friend. After Callahan's death French decided to go to Hazard before returning to his home in this city, and on the return trip from Hazard to Jackson it was planned to assassinate him. French was accompanied from Hazard by Geo. Hon, of this city, and to this fact he attributes his being alive today. The plotters had selected one of the darkest passes in the mountain road way to murder French, and were lying in wait for him to come along. Upon hearing that a stranger was accompanying him, and fearing that their excitement they would incure the stranger, they took the precaution to send him a warning. Immediately upon learning of the plot Mr. Hon informed French, and by taking a circuitous route they succeeded in reaching Jackson safely.

The housewives of the county are complaining of the ravages of crows among their young chickens and turkeys, and the farmers are carrying shotguns to the field with them.

Frankfort, Ky., May 31.—On account of weak eyes and heart trouble, Beach Hargis, slayer of his father, Judge James Hargis, formerly feudal leader of Breathitt county, has been taken off the contract work at the Frankfort penitentiary and assigned to the hospital as an attendant. Hargis, who is only 20 years old, has not been well since his confinement in the penitentiary, his eyes giving him a great deal of trouble. He has been to eye specialists in Frankfort, but the treatment gave only temporary relief. Now Hargis is acting as a nurse in the hospital. It is said that a vigorous effort will be made in the next month or two to get a pardon for Hargis, and if this fails that application will be made for parole immediately after Hargis has served the necessary five years, he not being eligible until he has served five years of a life sentence.

The Titanic disaster lends a keen interest on the part of the public to all nautical terms. The log of a ship is a simple device to record her rate of speed through the water. If there were such a thing as an immovable post midocean, sticking up out of the water, it is clear that a line tied to this post and allowed to run off from the deck of a ship as she sailed away from the port would measure the distance sailed. If a stop watch in the hand of a sailor gave the time during which a mile of the line was running out, then the number of miles to the hour steamed by the ship could be estimated. As there is no post or other fixed object to tie to, something must be found to take its place. A kite, made of oilcloth and caused to stand upright in the water, would be reasonably stationary. If the line's pull upon it were not too strong. Sometimes a long funnel made of leather and closed at the small end, is drawn by the line with its wideopen mouth forward. This will remain practically in one place, while the vessel moves onward. The device in general use is a three-cornered piece of thin board, held upright in the water by a bit of lead nailed to the bottom corner. Short cords attached to the other two corners—the cords being of the same length—hold the piece of plank broadside, the lines from the ship being joined to the cords. The line from the vessel runs off a reel freely, pulling as little as possible upon the buoy or float. Instead of a stop watch a half-minute sand glass is used to measure the time. When the float is dropped into the sea a sailor turns the glass. The line is divided into spaces like a tape-line or yard stick. When the sand in the glass has run out an officer reads the mark on the out-running line and knows the speed of the ship—so many feet in a half minute of time. They test the speed in this manner frequently, and allow a small margin for the buoy's shifting its position slightly. Such is the device called the ship's log.

The British Admiralty knot is the so-called nautical mile and measures 6,080 feet. The statute mile is only 5,280 feet. When the figures are small the difference is slight, but in large figures the difference cannot be ignored. One knot is 1.15 miles. Ten knots is 11.51 miles. Twenty knots is 23.03 miles, and twenty-five knots 28.78 miles. The log line of a ship is marked into knots, each 6,080 feet. Six feet measure one fathom, 600 feet one cable and ten cables one knot.

SPUNK.

How The Body Kills Germs.

Germs that get into the body are killed in two ways—by the white corpuscles of the blood, and by a germ-killing substance that is in the blood. Just what this substance is, we do not know. The blood of a healthy person always has some germ-killing substance in it to ward off the attack of disease. The fountain head of life is the stomach. A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished. To put the body in healthy condition, to feed the system on rich, red blood and throw out the poisons from the body, nothing in the past forty years has excelled Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a pure glyceric extract (without alcohol), of bloodroot, golden seal and Oregon grape root, stone root, mandrake and queen's root with black cherrybark.

J. H. MARTIN, Esq.

"My husband was a sufferer from stomach trouble and impure blood," writes Mrs. JAMES H. MARTIN, of Frankfort, Ky. "He had a sore on his face that would form a scab which would dry and drop off in about a month, then another would immediately form. It continued this way for a long time. He tried every remedy that any one would suggest but found no relief. He then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which completely cured him. He has stayed cured now for two years, and I recommend this valuable medicine for impurities of the blood."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of

W. J. FIELDS, of Carter County, for Representative in Congress from the Ninth district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

A prominent citizen of Maysville dropped dead on the street just af-

Wonderful things greeted Taft in New Jersey last week. The Lexington Herald says: "At Burlington he was met by a bridge carrying Chinese lanterns and red fire."

After a hot fight last Tuesday Taft secured the six Ohio votes from the state at large. The President's State will vote in the national convention 34 for Roosevelt and 14 for Taft.

Republican in that section he and several other Democratic politicians there who wanted to be with the majority promptly flopped.

Not far from the famous new mountain city of Jenkins, Ky., lives the family shown in the above picture, which was taken while the fine coking coal lands of that region were being bought by J. C. C. can probably organize the convention by making use of his power.
By steam roller methods he could secure the nomination. Under all the circumstances Mr. Taft will doubtless feel justified in using his power.

BOYS CAMP POSTPONED.

The Boys Camp under supervision of the Y. M. C. A., announced for June 1-11, was postponed until some time in July. The exact date will be announced later. The postponement was unavoidable accord-

Guests Are Entertained.

Miss Sophia Meek will be a very charming hostess this evening at an elegantly appointed 6 o'clock dinner complimentary to Miss Lucille Sullivan, a guest at the home of Mrs. G. F. Gallup and Miss Anna Ruth Peters, the house-visitors of Mrs. L. G. Chatfield, both honorees being charming society belles of Louisia.—Catlettsburg Item.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Skeens, who have been efficient teachers in the South side public school left on the afternoon Big Sandy train for Lou-mer vacation with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Skeens have won many warm friends while in our midst and it is with great pleasure that we can look forward to their return for the fall term of school to resume their school work in this side.—Ashland Independent.

STATE CONVENTION.

fary of State, rose to second the nomination of Governor McCreary.
He heaped praise on the head of the elderly administration chief and urged the delegates not to be distressed, whatever the outcome of the state convention fight, and that the result in November was what concerned all of them most.

Governor McCreary, until the time of his election, steadfastly refused to sit on the platform, preferring to remain with the delegates from his own district.

As he came up to take his place as presiding officer of the convention he was assisted to the platform by his vanquished opponent. Cordial handshaking followed.

"The Republican party has taught us a lesson," said Ollie James. "It can fight and forgive, and so can I. It gives me great pleasure to present to you the distinguished, brilliant and able Governor of Kentucky."

The Governor smiled in acknowledgment of this tribute, and said:
"We have not in Kentucky a more loyal or a more faithful Democrat, nor in the Lower House of Congress or Senate for that matter, than Ollie James."

At 8:30 p. m. the delegates returned to the convention hall for the night session. Former Lieutenant Governor "Bill" Thorne, of Emmeline, made an old-fashioned Democratic speech, denouncing the "bi-partisan tendencies of Kentucky."

"I'm against such stuff," he said.
"If we can't find a Democrat in the state who can fill the office vacant, then by the eternal gods let us abolish the office."

The Louisville Courier-Journal and Times owe several apologies to the prominent Eastern Kentucky Democrats whom it slandered during the recent campaign, but we shall not try to "hold our breath" until it utters an apology.

After a conference between Messrs.
A. O. Carter, of this county, and P.
K. Mallin, of Boyd, it was decided that the latter had the better chance to win as one of the delegates from the Ninth district to the National Convention at Baltimore, and this arrangement was agreed to. Mr.
Mallin and Hon. J. N. Kehoe were elected delegates.

John M. Rice wants us to deny certain reports that he has learned were circulated about his position as to presidential candidates on the day of the convention at Louisa.
He stated at the depot just before leaving that he was originally for Governor Harmon, but later changed to Champ Clark, just as thousands of other Kentuckians did after the relative strength of the two men became evident. What all good Democrats want is a candidate who can win in November, and we should not become so married to anyone early in the fight that we could not cheerfully support a stronger candidate.

TAKE IT IN TIME.

Just as Scores of Louisa People

Waiting doesn't pay.
If you neglect kidney backache,
Urinary troubles often follow.
Act in time by curing the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weakened kidneys.

Many people in this locality recommend them.

Here's one case:

Dr. R. Frasher, Fort Gay, W. Va., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy on the market for kidney and bladder complaint.
I have prescribed this preparation in my cases and at the present time six or eight of my patients are taking it with excellent results. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills with satisfactory results and am loud in my praise of them. The residents of this vicinity suffer considerably from kidney and bladder trouble due to the poor quality of the drinking water. I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be the one remedy that can be depended upon for relief. It has been my experience that all difficulties caused by weak kidneys such as irregular passages of the kidney secretions, gravel, dropsical swellings, lumbago, pains in the back and hips, etc., can be removed by Doan's Kidney Pills. A few doses of this remedy taken immediately when the trouble is noticed will save much misery."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,

A Monday Evening Marriage.

On Monday evening, June 3rd, at the residence of Mr. James Hale, Miss Monie Wilson was united in marriage to Nicholas Alexiou, the Rev. Archibald Cree, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiating. The bride, a very worthy and highly respected young lady, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Wilson, of this place. "Nick," the groom, is the popular young proprietor of the Greek confectionery in this city.

And thus have "Italy" and Greece become as one.

Arnold Buehler, said to be from Pennsylvania, was last week adjudged a lunatic by a jury in Judge Boggs' court and was taken to the State Hospital at Lexington.

He had been in this neighborhood for some time, and once narrowly escaped being run over by a train near Zella.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney &
Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Also, Miss Sue Bromley goes as a delegate from the Juvenile Society.

A tornado swept through the village of Skiatook, Okla., about 18 miles northwest of Tulsa, killing seven and injuring many others, some probably fatally.

Some former Lawrence county people moved to Skiatook some time ago, but the names of none of them appear in the list of the killed and injured.

Four footpads held up Miss Annie Poage, of Ashland, and a woman friend who was with her early last Sunday evening. The ladies were walking near 15th street and the railroad when the attempted robbery was committed. The screams of the women scared off the highwaymen, and the only damage was a broken handbag and some shaken nerves.

M. E. Church, Louisa next Sunday, at 10:30 o'clock a. m. The Rev. J. M. Ackman, D. S. will (D. V.) preach and administer Holy Communion. The Sunday night service will be in charge of Dr. Thos. Hanford, who will continue his sermons on "In Paul's Footsteps." Special Theme: Paul and the Cyprian Islanders. See him handle Bar-Jesus, the religious fraud, and hear of his first miracle.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

"The World," the marvelous pageant which was given in Music Hall, Cincinnati, last April. Mr. Robinson kept his eyes open during that visit, and his telling of what he saw was like the unfolding of a panorama, so vividly did he present the various features to his audience.

Then followed the telling of a story in two parts, Mrs. G. C. Nickell, of Morehead, and Miss Grace Morris, of Grayson being the tellers. In a very charming way these two young ladies—you know it is possible to be both married and youthful—these ladies told, one after the other of what they saw during a visit to "The World." The relation of what they saw and heard was very effectively done. The interesting meeting closed with the representation of an auxiliary meeting just as it is held monthly in the various places where the society has branches. The "Model Meeting" proved a success.

Sunday night, in the Baptist Church, witnessed the close of the annual meeting. The commodious building was crowded with a deeply attentive audience. On this occasion reports of various committees were read and adopted. One of these was a report, couched in glowing words, thanking the people of Louisa for their gracious and unstinted hospitality. During the evening Mrs. Cora Connor, of Owensville, spoke of the "Abundant Life," and Mrs. John Gay, of Versailles, of matters belonging to her particular field of labor. She is the President of the Ky. C. W. B. M.

The closing address was made by Mr. Clark, whose admirable sermon delivered in the M. E. Church South in the forenoon delighted all who heard it. The address was along the various lines of Christian activity, the needed equipment of workers and other things.

The annual meeting of the C. V. B. M. Missions and the Bible-school convention of the 16th District has come, stayed a season all too brief and has gone, leaving delightful memories of an interesting and profitable session. There were brainy men and women in the delegation which honored Louisa with its presence. With their proverbial hospitality our people opened their homes and their hearts to their visitors, and there is abundant evidence to show that this hospitality was appreciated.

The next convention will be held at Grayson.

Ralph Booton, formerly a prominent citizen of this county but now of Lamar, Mo., was here this week. He is looking young and well, and barring a slight limp is as active as ever. He had been in Flord county, where he had lived several years, and stopped in Louisa enroute to his present home.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

children presenting their "Gifts to the King." Every child put an offering into the floral baskets with a joy in the giving.

From the "Triumphal Entry to the payment of the debt of love on the Cross of Calvary the story beautiful went on, and no one of the children who took part on the program and no one of the large number of people in the house who witnessed it but has a true conception of what Children's Day should mean.

The decorations were in harmony with the program. The color scheme was simple and the effect artistic.

Over the center of the platform was suspended a cradle made of daisies, in the background a beautiful white floral cross.

All who helped in the rendering of this program deserve praise, but the complete success of the evening was due to Mrs. Henry Sullivan, whose untiring efforts were faithfully seconded by the organist, Mrs. George Vinson.

The Superintendent, teachers, parents and children join heartily in thanking these good ladies for making such an evening with the children possible.

Concerning An Alleged Road.

In going to and returning from Pine Hill cemetery on Decoration day, my heart saddened at the thought of taking the bodies of our precious ones over such a road as is the only one to that beautiful city of our loved dead. I felt, and still feel that it is a burning shame and a standing disgrace to all of us. Please agitate this matter through the columns of the NEWS until those whose duty it is to look after this important matter shall see that we have at least a safe and reasonably pleasant road over which to take our loved dead to their last earthly resting place.

Ollie Castle, a prominent business man of Huntington, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Assessor of Cab. He is a son of Mr. H. W. Castle, this county, and is deserving of position he is seeking. Here some thing he may win.

Mr. W. W. Ricketts, of Shelby, Ky., is here with his wife, who came for treatment at the hospital. Several years ago Mr. Ricketts was located in this city, doing contract work for the C. & O. railway. He is now a contractor on work near Hellier.

WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHBORS.

NEWS FROM COUNTIES JUST ACROSS THE RIVER IN WEST VIRGINIA.

On last Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, near the mouth of the Mud Fork of Island Creek, John Vernatter, a young man 21 years of age, was fatally stabbed by Willie Deskins, and died Monday evening at the Logan Hospital. Young Deskins, who is only 17 years of age is in the jail here, held without bond.

The affair was the result of an argument over a trivial affair and in the altercation which ensued Deskins stabbed Vernatter just above the heart.

One of the most brutal murders in the history of the county occurred on last Sunday at Glenalton station when Milam, known as Will Price, shot Clara Hairston through the head. Both are colored.

The bullet entered the woman's brain but she lived 16 hours. It is stated that the woman was sick and that when Price entered her house she asked him to go to bed. This angered him and he fired the fatal shot.

Price made his escape, walking east along the railroad track. The firm of Bray and Goodwin, tunnel contractors, for which Price worked has offered a reward of $50 for his capture.

Five out of nine of the Republican candidates for the nomination for congressman in West Virginia, to be voted for at the primary elections of next Tuesday, have failed to comply with the United States law in the matter of filing their statements as to expenditures in the campaigns for nomination. Neither C. F. Teter, Howard Sutherland, A. H. Campbell, S. B. Avis or Wells Goodykoontz have filed any statement. Only four candidates filed their accounts with the clerk of the court as required by law. They are:

Logan is enjoying a building boom. On most every street is to be seen new buildings being erected or excavations being made for some business house. In a short time the old frame buildings which were destroyed by the recent fires will have been replaced by modern brick business blocks.

The contractors, who have the contract for the basement of Ed Oakley's opera house on Main street are pushing the excavation and expect in a short while to begin work on the basement which will be the largest in the city. The same firm has the excavation for the new Ghiz building on Straton street and are being highly commended on the way in which they are conducting the work.

On the night of May 17th, our church was severely damaged by the surface depression of the ground incident to some disturbance in the abandoned coal mines which underlie the South Side section of the city.

For some weeks there had been indications of the movement near us, injuring the Parsonage of the Baptist Church and the Central Christian Church building. The damage was so great that the pastor moved his family from the parsonage and the Christian Church has been dismantled and abandoned. Other buildings in the same section were not seriously damaged because they are frame.

On the morning of the 18th, there appeared a fissure in the wall of our Church, which is brick, running from the ground to the roof.

Immediately our Trustees were called together, and those who could come in the emergency employed expert house raisers and saved telling them to do what was necessary to save the property if possible.

After four days of work they "put the building on needles," and raised it to a level closing the fissure and relieving the great strain to which the unaffected part was subjected.

It is hoped now that the house can be saved unless more should come some additional trouble, and work is going steadily on to make permanent the relief given at first.

The parsonage, while showing signs of the conditions, is not all damaged, and is habitable and supposedly safe.—W. L. Canter in Layman's Herald.

NOTES OF THE FARM.

COLUMN OF INTERESTING NEWS THAT WILL BENEFIT FARMERS.

Spray early and late.

Whitewash the hen house.

Keep the dairy utensils clean.

"The early bird" easily keeps down the weeds.

Too much sun for young chicks is as bad as too little.

More silos and less rotten corn shocks will increase profits.

The manager must supply the brains for the cow machine.

Don't wait for the weeds to appear before you begin cultivating.

Have everything neat and sweet about your milk and butter business.

Keep a good brood sow as long as she will produce satisfactory litters.

Be sure that the heifer is well developed before allowing her to be bred.

It is better to give a cow six to eight weeks' rest between periods of lactation.

An alert carriage and a bright eye are necessary in a perfect carriage or saddle horse.

To teach chicks to drink, sprinkle a few grains of feed on the water for them to pick at.

The disadvantage about June chicks is that they will not mature for laying in the fall.

The great majority of farmers do not know the value of the harrow, or if they do they do not use it.

Teach the lambs as early as possible to eat grain in a lamb creep to fit them for the early market.

Silo users assert that they have found a way to cut down the cost of handling cows at least one-third.

If a horse sweats easily, take particular pains not to let him stand out in a draft, or drink too heartily.

It is expensive economy to do without a separator where cream is sold or butter made from five or more cows.

The best way to get rid of tuberculosis in dairy cattle is to follow the old precept about an ounce of prevention.

Success in the dairy seems to be most all "a"; separator, silo, scales—then the following letter, "t," test, is a close second.

Have all cattle that come into the herd tuberculin tested and then have a well ventilated barn that is kept scrupulously clean.

The expense of caring for a mule is less than for a horse. He eats less, requires no blanketing, no stall and is more easily kept clean.

If a sow that has lost the use of her legs is in good flesh, it would be best to slaughter her for meat, as chances of recovery are poor.

The poultry business requires study and constant attention, the same as any other business. First efforts are rarely ever successful.

One of the silo arguments that appeals to every stock owner is that there is no such thing as cornstalk disease to worry the silage feeder.

The building of a silo is not a speculation by means of which you can get something out of nothing.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

If you want cheerfulness in your home, you must have sunshine and genial hearts. Plan to live in the sunshine; if there is a pleasant room in your dwelling, live there; if there is a dark room, shut it up; keep the children out of it; if you have troubles shut them up there—never take them into the family circle—give home the sunniest thought and plans of your whole life and fill it with love, joy, peace, gladness—sunshine.

Take the trouble to get well acquainted with your children, and to interest yourself in their pastime, etc. By this means they will learn to trust and confide in you, and are not easily led away by outside influence.

Home As Heaven.

The earthly home is only a type. Our town is "a city of homes." In my Father's house are many mansions, said the homeless one of Galilee. Birds of the air had nests, fishes had holes in the ground, but he had no where to lay his head. John Howard Payne, who wrote "Home, Sweet Home," was also an exile, like his master. In a little village graveyard a tombstone to a mother has this homely epitaph: "She Hade Home Happy." Sounds like Christ's "She hath done what she could." A real home is surely a happy place built on the hilltop of cheerfulness. No shadow rests there. Morning comes early; evening stays late. Life is a stormy sea, home a harbor.

Babies Or Dogs?

A society in Kansas organized to find homes for homeless children, says that there are women so bereft of all womanly feeling that they actually give their dogs the care that thousands of babies are starving for.

Fashionable London boasts a sumptuous new toilet parlor for dogs. There a dog can be washed, brushed, perfumed, manicured and have its teeth brushed.

It is a disgrace to humanity and an insult to honest dog nature.

Dogs can be the most faithful of friends and can inspire great devotion in the hearts of their masters, but they are honest, doggy dogs, not pampered, spoiled pups.

The woman who has so little maternal love left in her heart that she can lavish such admiration on a dog is a pitiable object.

Every good woman is at heart a mother even though she may never bear children. Every little life is to her a wonderful, precious thing, a thing to be cherished and loved.

There are—alas! that it should be so—thousands of hungry, neglected babies in the land. These babies would think themselves in the lap of luxury if they had half the care that many a pet dog gets. They have no soft bed, no petting, no good food.

Think of a baby's little soft, tender body lying on a squalid, wretched bed while in some luxurious home a poodle lies on softest down and satin. It is monstrous and cruel.

All women are not blessed with children, but the woman who spends a dog the money that she might give to the aid of some starving baby is a disgrace to womanhood.

It is not only for food that some of the babies are starving. Some of them have plenty of bodily luxury

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm." There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles: S. B. - Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Information, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

but their baby hearts are starving for love and comprehension.

Thank goodness that the women who spend their time and money on the pampering of dogs are rare, and that the good mother is to be found in every corner of the earth, from the throne and the mansion down to the humblest home of the peasant or toiler.

People who have been bolstered up and liveried all their lives are seldom good for anything in a crisis. When misfortune comes they look around for something to cling to or lean upon. If the prop is not there, down they go. Once down they are as helpless as capsize turtles, or unhorsed men in armor, and they cannot find their feet without assistance. They are like summer vines which never grown even ligneous but stretch out a thousand little hands to grasp the stronger shrubs; and if they cannot reach them they lie disheveled in the grass, hoof-trodden, and beaten of every storm. It will be found that the first real movement upward will not take place until, in a spirit of resolute self-denial and endurance so natural to almost every one is mastered. Necessity is usually the spur that gets the sluggish energies in motion. Poverty is therefore oftener a blessing to a young man than prosperity; for while the one tends to stimulate his powers, the other inclines him to longer disuse.

Our sense of the value of the family needs to be revived and roused. The family, the great institution of paradise, the scene of purest love, the nursery of infancy, and the stimulus and shelter of all the virtues! Each man and woman has a duty to this end. A homeless civilization is sure to be a satanic one; the vices will flourish and the virtues be nipped by the untimely frost. Back of the good man must needs be the good household. Here and there may be a saint and an apostle won from the dens of vice; but, unless the den be reformed, a miracle only can insure the safety of the new convert. In the future, as in the past, the solid and reliable men and women, the leaders in business and society, will be found in the quiet and holy homes of the land.

Take No Substitute.

THE ALLEGATION DENIED AND THE ALLEGOR DEFIED.

It has been rumored by some person or persons, who seem to know more about my business than I do myself, that I am making preparations to operate a distillery for the purpose of distilling spirituous and malt liquors.

Now, I have this to say in rebuttal, that if there is never any whiskey distilled till I distill it, the people can rest assured that as soon as the present supply has been used up we will have no more whiskey.

If I desired to enter a business of this kind, I certainly would go where the sale of same is authorized by law, and not entertain the idea of entering a business in a neighborhood or territory where at least 95 per cent. of the people are against its sale and use, which would be the case in this county.

The whiskey business, in my judgment, is a business that no one should enter into, even though the sale of same be authorized by law, as it is a business that in 99 cases out of every 100 is inclined to pull you downward instead of pulling you upward.

Now, I would suggest to the party or parties who are so interested in misrepresenting me, that instead of going on hounding me around to put in their valuable time with some of their kinsmen and friends or some of my kinsman and friends to cut off the use of strong drink, as I am not the only one who ever made and sold whiskey in this neighborhood or in Lawrence county.

As a matter of fact, I, like a great many others, of course, made a mistake when I entered into this business, which fact I soon discovered and began at once to work my way out without disappointing any one in a financial way or otherwise, which after awhile I did, paying all my indebtedness, also paying all fines, costs, and other expenses inflicted by the Commonwealth, not asking a court officer to throw in even one cent of his cost.

I have no unkind words to say of those who have seen fit to misrepresent me, except I hope from this time on they may see fit to further ascertain the facts about one's business ere putting out such false and unauthorized rumors.

My principal business at present is that of breeding some good live stock and working hard to induce others to do the same, in order that I may make our country better and more valuable, and hope to meet and co-operate with every other person who is interested in this cause or any other cause that is good for the up-building of our country.

With kindest regards and best wishes to your valuable paper, I am, Yours very truly,

CHAS. C. FLANNERY.

FOUR-LEGGED CHICKEN.

For several days recently Lullie Fisher, a well known colored woman of this place, was the proud possessor of a four-legged chicken, one of a brood hatched by one of her hens. In addition to the usual propellers a well formed leg grew on each side of the biddy, but these superfluous legs were not used in walking. It lived three or four days.

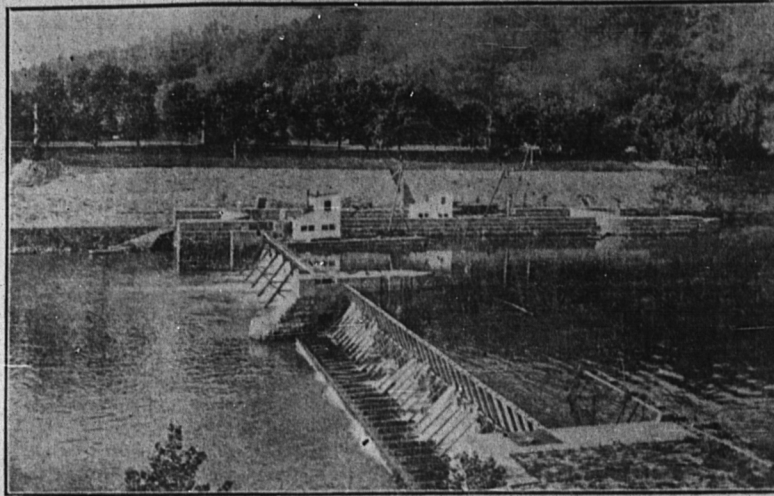

If the news gets abroad that chickens with four upper joints are born in Louisa there will be no difficulty in securing a Methodist Conference for next year.

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's valuable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."
